WEBINAR SERIES ON PALLIATIVE CARE RESEARCH

Designed by Freepik

Welcome to the webinar series on palliative care research. In this series, the InAdvance Project invites international speakers from other palliative care and end-of-life research projects funded by the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation program to talk about palliative care research. All webinars will be free and held online via Zoom. They will also be recorded and made available online.

In the first webinar, we will discuss Palliative Care and End-of-Life research from the patient's perspective, with the human in the center. The first webinar will take place in mid-October 2021.

In the second webinar, our focus will be on palliative care interventions with technological component. What tools can we think of to help with care, and who will benefit the most from them? What are the future possibilities? The second webinar will be held in H1 2022.

In the third webinar, we will review the outcomes of the InAdvance Project - What did we do? What did we discover? What are our recommendations to policymakers? More information later on the third and final webinar.
